To whom it may concern,

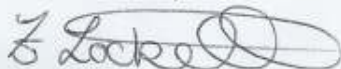

In February 2006 The Consultancy Group took over the running of our mobile phone contract.

We felt as though our current supplier wasn't looking after our best interests and because we didn't know too much about the industry we felt as though we were being taken advantage of.

Since Mark and The Consultancy Group have taken over the account everything that was promised at the beginning has always been delivered. I am happy to say that we have just upgraded our handsets with The Consultancy Group, again this process was as smooth as ever.

I would have no hesitation in recommending Mark, or The Consultancy Group to any company.

Yours Faithfully
